MANY THOUSANDS PARTICIPATE

Prominent Republicans Address the Assembled Multitude-Governor McKinley Responds.

CANTON, June 27.-Tippecance an the old coon, too, have been prominent in today's doings in Canton, one of the incidents of which was recalled with an old flag which was a relie of the famou Harrison campaign of 1840, and old voterans tonight say the scenes enacted here vividly recall the stirring incidents of that memorable time.

Hourly trains brought thousands of Oleveland visitors to Canton over two roads. Delegations came from Apollo, Va., and other distant points, until the crowds on the streets tonight are variously estimated at 25,000 to 80,000 onely estimated at 25,000 to 30,000 people.

Of all the stirring days since the St. Louis convention none have equalled the enthusiasm witnessed in the ratification here this atternoon and evening. It was feared the prediction of rain and cloudy skies would prevent the gathering of the anticipated crowds, but tongish, with thousands of men in the line of march and with fireworks everywhere and more horns than have been blown before in this town, the outcome of the ratification inangurated by the Tippecanes club of Cleveland was more of a specces than its most enthusiastic projectore expected.

The incoming delegations were met at the trains by a hand of uniformed burermen and excepted to a vacant block of ground. This was centrally located, and the whole block as well as the streets for blocks around was crowded with a surging throng in every direction during the atternoon while speaking was going on. Each delegation had its band. The Tippecuance dub which took a prominent in the St. Louis convention was most marked in its manifestations and its glee club was conspicuous. The most significant feature of the occasion was the predominating sentiance in all the speeches and on nearly all the banners which indicated the tariff was the teading issue in the estimation of the assembled hosts, and while the party did not propose to shift responsibility or evade the currency question, it was not intended in the least to allow the tariff seauch the operalmindowed as the principal one of the campaight.

wisdom and pattotism of the Espaini can party.

"The silver question, now soon to be a national issue between the men of sound money ideas and the Populistic 50-cent dollar advocates, is a convenient mask to hide behind by the party which, coming into power in 1803, proceeded to destroy the industries of the country and plungs the treasury into insolventy.

"What is the real issue of this campaign and who shall answer that question? The sunwer will come from the men who demanded and seconded the noninstion of McKiney and Hobert. The people always sottle the real fatter in which they feel the deepest interest. This year the people decree that the Wilson-Gorman law, with all its train of calamities, shall be repeated and by a like decree they have said that the miton will go back to protection and reciprocity with their train of beneficial results and they shall again become the practice and policy of the United States, "To guard against any contingency alout all this, thee same people, by decrees which have come from the primarles of nearly all states, have decided that William McKinley shall administer the government and execute the laws they have decided that in their interest."

The "Depow of Ohio," Hon, James H, Hoyt of Oleveland, was the next speaker.

H. Hoyt of Olsveising, was the next speaker.

Hon, Charles Emory Smith of the Philadelphia Prezs and exeministor to Russia, was not on the programme, but Judge Day presented him as a clues friend and adviser of the martyred Garfield and the late James G. Blaine, and it was a warm greating he received, it for congratulating the people on the choice of the presidential ticket, he said:

choice of the presidential ticket, he said that the property of the presidential ticket, he said that the property of the communities. The Lincols, the Grant, the Biaine, the Harrison, have met the highest demands of the nation, because they have grown up with the flavor of the soil and in close touch with the plain people. To this immortant roll of the people's leaders, Major McKinley comes by the right of a proper choice and appointment meurpassed in all our history. Fitly placed upon the ticket with him is Garrett A. Hobart of New Jersey. Able, upright and true, he is worthy of the association. Speaking with personal knowledge set his neighbor and friend, I shall not, I truet, overstep the bounds of propriety, when I say in his personal dignity of character, in the fragrance and graces of his home life, he is well matched with his chief, and that this ticket as a whole and in each of its parts, in its claimless personality and its sweet home influences, addresses itself in the largest measure to the approval and confidence of the millions of American homes."

confidence of the millions of American homes."

"The Republican party has never shown itself worthier of its high mission than in its action at St. Louin. Thirty-six years ago it most in ational convention to name the first great Republican president. Andrew J. Curtin, who became the great war governor of Pennsylvania, was one of the shining lights of that convention. George Asbanus spoke for Illipois, it was a convention of distinctional properties of the superiodous moral grapple between freedom and slavery. And yet, if you will go Illipois. It was a convention of distinguished leaders at a crisis of the superadous mural grapple between freedom and slavery. And yet, if you will go back over the records you will find the historic convention of 1869 was timid, hatting and american compared with the convention of 1869. It spoke in no such clear and ringing lones. It showed no such lofty courage of convictions and determination of purpose. The impressive personality of Giddings, if I remember the heteory correctly, failed to carry the reassestion of the principle of the declaration of independence that all men are created free, and on a second appearance with the glowing eloquence of Curtis, was the convention broughtto reallim that God-given truth.

"The future years will look back to the convention of 1816 with admiration and gratitude for its courage of spirit and its unflinching action. It was the bravest of all conventions in the history of the party, and the tracet in its direct reflection of the people's will."

The next speaker was Gongrasaman R. W. Taylor, the successer of McKinley. In referring to the Republican nomines he said. "He is surely of the people, he was made great by the people, it is grant propresents the anti-thiesis of everything which the people heart und intelligence of the people.

"McKinley stands for McKinleyism," abnor. He sprang from the people, had knows the people, he has always kept mear the heart and intelligence of the people.

"McKinley stands for McKinleyism, and McKinleyism stands for proaperity, not as a more theory or conjecture, but as a verified and realized fact. We must therefore succeed. The people have the candidate of their choice. He represents the principles so dear to every American beart. He stands for American for Americans."

During this address a committee was sent to request Governor McKinley's preserve. Congressman Taylor had concluded his address and the Glee club was singing when a roar of applears to be sufficiently bear of the first of the front of the platform. The wild and long continued enthusiasm of the St. Louis nomine. When he appeared before the sea of these that greeted lim, he stapped to the front of the platform. The wild and long continued enthusiasm of the St. Louis convention bid fair to be repeated.

The giovernor adopted effort after effort to quiet the crowd and express bis thanks but it was several minutes before he could say:

"My fellow clizens:—I thank you for this demonstration. I think I know just all it means. It is in no sonse parsonal, but it is the searance of the literate which you feel in the great questions which are to be considered in this great campalign, which are to be settled at the analing election. It means, my fellow clizens, that we are attached by very tie of festly and affection to the great fundamental doctrines of the Republican party. It means you intend by your votes to write into public law and into permanent stantes what you believe would be for the best interest of the publican party. "If a free colunge candidate is nominated on a free coinage platform, what will be the result?".

"Practically it will disrupt the Democratic party. No power on earth can coerce or persuade cound money Democrats to forsake the fundamental principles of Damacracy. They do not regard this question as either factional, political or sectional. The maintenance of the national correct is a maintenance of the national conditional bonor. The Saratoga platform emphasizes this fact. It says the maintenance of the present gold standard at the present time is essential to the preservation of our public pledges and the keeping inviolate of our country's honor. That is our position as positive as words can express it, and it cannot be changed."

"Then you do not look for a compromise?"

"Oompromise is impossible. Dehasement of the currency would be more than monstrous in effect. It would be abandonment of principle. It would disgrace every citizon. DECISIVE ACTION REQUIRED.

The decision of the directors of the Valley road not to build eath of Freeno for the present unless a right of way is donated will probably not result in a long delay in the work of extending the road to Bakersfield. The road is of such vital importance to the counties couth of Freeno, that the cost of obtaining a right of way will hardly be permitted to stand in the way of completing the road to ite proposed sentiment terminas.

Under the circumstances the action of

Under the circumstances the action of Under the circumstances the action of the directors is not surprising. They were given to understand before they decided to come to the rollef of this section of the state, that a right of way would be freely granted, and in this expectation they have been disappointed. You then exorbitant prices have been demanded for the land required by them, and the building of the road has been greatly retarded by this unexpectbeen greatly retarded by this unexpect ed and expensive obstruction. The way is now practically clear to Freeno, but in addition to the donations made it represents a large expanditure of time represents a large expanditure of time and money on the part of the company. The directors naturally feel that they are entitled to the co-operation on the part of the people which they were originally promised, and in default of it will turn their attention to the extension of the line to its northern terminates. will turn their attention to the exten-sion of the line to its morthern termi-nus at San Francisco. The Bruvingan feels perfectly sale in predicting, how-ever, that the proceede of the content this end of the line. The people south of Freeno will not permit the road to stop at this point when the securing of a right of way will secure its immediate construction. The Freeno Committee of Ten is decirous that both branches of the road south of this city be built at once, and will lend all assistance in their power to bring about that result. The directors of the road have oridently taken a decisive stand, and this, in turn, demands decisive action on the

MR. BELMONT SPEAKS.

Hon. Perry Belmont, a prominent New York Damograt and a member of the banking house which represents the Rothschilds interest in this country, hasspoken in regard to the political situ-ation, and coming from a cource so near the Cleveland through its words are worth rappoducine. The sist of Mr. Belmout's the Chaverana throne his words are worth a reproducing. The glat of Mr. Belmout's glittering ideas are found in the follow-reproducing. Ane gist of Mr. Mcimunt's glittering ideas are found in the following paragraph:

"If the national Damocracy will at Chicago remain united, McKinleyiam can be ornshed in November and a tixed international ratio for silver and gold put within range of practical effort. Another McKinley tastifican be prevented, the issue of more government bonds made unuscensory the national credit upheld, out exports increased and the wages of workingmen North and South not tobereduced to a fitty-cent dollar. It cannot but be that rather than have distunded in the material of the secondary of the southern Democracy, as in 1860, the southern Democracy, as in 1860, the southern Democracy, with whom New York cooperated in the 1862 election of Mr. Cleveland, will consent to a reasonable plan whereby free silver coinage can be deferred until a practical effort is made by a Democratic President and Democratic confrost to obtain a fixed international bimetallic ratio."

There may be bigger fools than the

There may be bigger fools than the Honorable Perry Belmont in the world, but none of them have yet made them-ealyse heard in this campaign. The idea that the neople of this country idea that the people of the source would look to the Democracy of Grover Cleveland for a sincere movement to bring about an international sgreament for silver coinage is ridiculous enough to bring a smile to the face of the sphynx, but even that is not so su-premely ridiculous as the idea that the maintenance of a free trade tariff would revent further issues of government bonds by making them unnecessary. To make such a proposition in the face of the fact that the alleged necessity has been principally due to the failure of the present tariff to produce enough revenue to most the current expenses of the government, is prime facia evidence either that the distinguished Mr. Beleither that the distinguished Mr. Bernont is saffering from paresis or that he believes the masses of the people utterly incapable of understanding proposition that a wayfaring man, even though he has not the fortune to live in the state of New York, cannot errifu considering.

RANDOM REMARKS.

After all, it is not so strange that Mrs. Criven kept her marriage with "Jim" Fair a secret for more than four years. The only wonder is that she should ever have been willing to admit it to any-body.

The Visalia Delia says that "the meanest man in Visalia today is the fellow who maliciously strews tacks in the streets most frequented by bicylists." Shake, neighbor, lie is the meanest man over here, too, but there are not many of him.

That bright woman, L. Q. Davis, has written a three-column serticle for the Stockton Mail entitled, "Fair Ewimmers in Bathing." It deals with the manners and appearance of the members of the gentle sex when they are in the water, and, as its writer is a woman, she is entitled to the intimate acquaintance with her subject which she displays. So far all is well, but the Mail had the article illustrated as "sketched by the Mail instead of the Mail artist." and the sketched don't "go." The writer hereof knows the Mail artist. "Dick" De Treville is his name, and law would no more indulge in sketching feminion legs and shoulders and titings like that (of which the pictures principle would not fly for anything. Where the Flag Went. Some Stuff.

It is curious how men do waste their mergles in this world. Here, for in-stance, according to the REPUBLICAN, are N. C. Coldwell, E. D. Edwards an Lloyd W. Moultrie all striving ardnously to secure the Democratic nomination for district attorney. Could you imagine a vainer effort than that? In the first place, there is no certainty that there will be a county election next fall, and, in the second place—well, you under-stood, did you not, that it is the Dema-cratic nomination to which they sepire? What is the use of a watch if it will not run? (That is, of source I mean a man's watch.) Also; what is the use of a Democratic nomination in Fresno Mesers. Moultrie, Edwards and Cold-well are nice men, but why should they unceachigly years for a watch that has lost its mainspring? Or perhaps it would be better to say, Why should they yearn for a chain without any watch? Do they really expect Demo-cratic candidates to be elected in Fresno county this fail? And this in the final thross of the Chweland administration? Periell the vain thought! It is a transi-tory dream which will fade like the dewn of the morning as soon as they have had an opportunity to elt down with themselves and consider "where they are at." As I heretofore have remarked, the throu misled aspirants ore nice men, but they forget the eternal fitness of things. Would the election of Democrats to office be a fitting climax to a Cleveland administration? I wot that it would not. Even now the popular stomach is too full of Democracy as it has been expounded through an entire administration. Trustes F. M. Chittenden is learning to ride the bicycle. Now may the saints be praised, for if the city trustees take to the wheel, so also may the county supervisors, and when both the city and county "dade" do so, you may be sure that they will very soon ascertain how wretheally poor are the roads for which the people pay so high a price. They say that Trustee Chittenden reeds and topples and wrettles with the double wheel and goes through all the movements that are taid down for beginners. May kindly fortune be good to him and lead him safely through his days of trial and skinned shins, for the wheelmen need in their ranks every official whom they can get. Thus, and thus only, will the average trustee learn that it is not a carriage, but a cycler, who is in danger of being "imussed up" when the two collide. Here's success to you, Trustee Chittenden. G. Bonner, has made a purchase of a large block of 2-crown raisins, amounting to about twenty-five carlends. This is the last lot of raisins in Freeno county, and was bought of George West & Sons. The purchase price is said to have been 2½ cents. The bulk of this lot of raisins had been sold a few weeks ago to Growett & Son by the Co-operative Prackers' Association for wine purposes, and brought 1½ cents per pound.

It was generally supposed that these raisins had all gone into the wine vate, but West & Bons, foresecung an advance in values, held the conds in their original condition at Minturn, and only verification of the condition of the condition at Minturn, and only very haudeome profit on their purchase as the California Raisin and Fruit Company, making a very haudeome profit on their purchase as the California Raisin and Fruit Compose, and as the Estern markets are been of all etocks, it is reasonable to uppose that another good profit will be made on the lot of fruit. Indications certainly point to a very decided improvement in the raisin business next senson.

Quite a number of iamilies have made a practice of taking lunch in the park and so long as some effort is made to gather up the remnants of the feast and carry them off thorn is not likely to be any objection on the part of the supervisors. But there are abuses to which the attontion of the supervisors can hardly be too strongly directed. One of these is the frequenting of that portion dedicated to the use of "halies and their escorte" by persons of both exces who repair to the spot at dark and wlues conduct is the reverse of esemity. Gold Democrats Are Still Hopeful and Silver Republicans Are Resigned.

San Francisco, June 26.-11 Califor ment rich in mate rial prosperity, at least site is opident in great met. Philosophical students of institutions gonerally hold that a democracy, owing to its tendency to reduce everything to a dead level, is peculiarly unfavorable to the rise of eminent individuals. Theory, however, emment individuals. Theory, nowever, cannot stand against experience. Among us great men are as plentiful as mush--not mon who are merely locally great, but whose greatness is recognized by the stranger. Regard General de Young, for instance. And then there is General Spreckels. At home here we are not given unduly to holding them are not given unduly to horange in awe and therefore surprise was prev-alent when we saw how they loomed at St. Louis. This applies more partic-ularly to General de Young. It is his good fortune to be better known. When General Spreckels has been as long in good fortune to be better known. When General Spreeckels has been as long in journalism and is as ripe in statemanship he, too, will doubtless be as greatly esteemed by his fellow-conntrymen, when he makes an occasional appearance on the stage of the theater of national sifairs. It is reasonable to expect this, for in natural ability there is no marked difference between the mon, and in the minor detail of education. General Spreckels has the advantage. The consideration paid to General de Young at St. Louis ought to be a lesson to us. In spite of our Californian habit of boasting we are really at heart timidly conscious of our provincialism. We look up to and admire Do Young, yet when we beheld the great men of New York and Texas and Penneylvania secording him the footing of a peer there were low of us who did not undergo a shock of delighted astonishment. Were wen't provincial we should not experience this joyous excitement simply because our judgment has been confirmed by people unknown to us and whose sole claim to our reverence is that they live a good ways off. If when the great men of the whole land are assembled and our own great men do not evoke wonder and mirth we may be assumbled and our own great men do not evoke wonder and mirth we may be assumed that they size up vary, well intellectually and in breeding with the great elsewhere. This ought to be a comfort to us, give us a firmer confidence in our capacity to identify great men when they appear among us, and sireughten our hupe in the republic's future.

Speaking of great men, there is no patriotic heart that has not breen wounded by the misfortune which bufell Colonel Samuel Enotridge at St. Louis. In outsing him from his test as a delegate the convention—cushowingly, of course—infileted a loss upon the nation. The convention deprived itself and the United States of a great speech. I have not seen the speech myself, but I am told that it is great. Many, previous to the Colonel's departure for St. Louis, were privileged to percue the manuscript. These report that the evordium is one of the most elaborately beautiful pieces of oratorical composition that ever came from a Pacific Coast pen—that Mr. Dolmas, the Colonel's law pattner, was deenly affected by it and had nothing to suggest for its improvement. The peroration, they say, also deeply affected Mr. Dolmas. The memory of Mr. Delmas is so creelend that he has the most beautiful portions of Colonel Shortridge's undelivered speech by heart and has made the eavisible Pacific Union Club almost as familiar with them as he is himself. San Francisco inso but three crators of the ürst-class—General W. H. L. Barnes, Major George A. Knight and Colonel Shortridge. The General being well stricken in years is content to rest upon his fame, but there is rivalry between the other two, who are ambitons and young, neither being yet fifty. In mere voice there is no question of the Major's superiority. He can be heard for miles. But in the grace of the crator's art—In the pracer of infinite ampliflucation, the deft cabordination of the Major's superiority. He can be heard for miles. But in the grace of the crator's art—In the pracer of infinite ampliflucation, the deft cabordination of the Major's apperiority. He can be heard for miles. But in the grace of the crator's art—In the pracer of infinite ampliflucation and the Major's apperiority. He see the same of primacy hetween himself and Knight. "I will make a speech," He would say so more. The speech was to be one placing Allicon in nomination, but the theme was to be inciden eathriet. In reality the colonel was standing on the eidewalk in a die of abstraction, thinking of his epeech, and Knight in the coavernton, seated, and the province of the city police, and they were strate made it appeared that the colonel of the coavernton strated, and the coavernton strated, and the coavernton strated, and the coavernton strated and the coavernton strated and the coavernton strated and the coavernton strated the coavernton strated in the stranger heavy two tens for a five? The artist should the colonel stid let the stranger heavy two tens for a five? Instead of helm matter for ridicule, the artist should include the colonel stid let the stranger heavy two tens for a five? The enthususm of the local Democracy for silver is a phenomenon which has a special interest for journelists. It shows that the people have learned to de without the assistance of the press is making up their minds. The only Democratic nawspaper in California, I believe, that has argued steadily in favor of the fructure of the state of silver is the Stockton Mr.

In talking with some of the gold atandard Democrate I find that they are not so completely without hope as one would think they ongult to be after their two-to-one voite at the state convention. They know now that the Democracy of California is overwhelmingly for silver but they insist that a good part of the boom's mere contacion. They say that when the representatives of the party throughout the union are brought into contact at Chicago a desire for harmony will search tiself, and that to avoid a bott there will be a compromise. The extent to which they bank on the influence of Mr. Whitney is amusing. Were the ex-secretary a robed and bearded prophet dwelling in a cave and bearded prophet dwelling in the second of the prophet of the second in the held in profounder veneration by the bowded-out gold men. Local cilverites, howover, scull at these hopes. They respect Whitney, of course—that is a plous Democratic duty, but they declare that their fight having been wen they are not going to be done out of it by palayer. If the eastern gold men want to bolt, let them—this is a silver year and in silver is the pracy's only chance. This is the prevailing spirit. The solion of nominating Teller does not commend itent. "I like his cheek," said a leading silver man to me. "Does he think that just because he has stepped off the Republican train the political railroad service of the entire United States must be disorganized? The Democratic party ower nothing to many anytow. Somebody of storner stuff than in is mule of would be needed for a leader, even if we were looking around fir a converted Kepubican this to the dien that, though the special of the all of the second than the national Democratic powers."

The amouncement of a clearance sale by the White Front Stores brought about all of Frenc's loweskeepors and careful buyers together at those stores during the past live weeks.

The faith of the people of Freeno in the genuineness of a clearance sale advertisement of the White Front Stores is unbounded. Several times during the past few years the firm has felt called upon to offer goods at special sale. Each time the response on the part of the public has been prompt and unanimous, and each time the customers of the public has been prompt and unanimous, and each time the customers of the stores have been fully estimated with the goods and prices, the latter having invariably been just as advertised, and unasily from con-third to one-half less than similar goods sell for cleaveles. The good name of the house continues to grow, and conjequently each succeeding announcement carries more weight than tild former advertisements. This fact accounts for the unprecedented succees of the sale which is now in progress, and also for the sale which is now in progress, and also for the fact that Freeno's people crowd the White Front Stores avery day. These stores are firmly established in the confidence of the public of Contral California.

Mrs. Ryley's comedy "Glaristopher Jr." has proved to be a most agreeable medium for the display of Mr. John Drew's polished histornic sad merry-making success. His fashionable admirers like him immensely in the part of the refined young man whose heart is kept in a flutter of love for four jolly soils. Out of 100 performances of this comedy at the Empire theatre, New York, the "standing room" sign was displayed ninety times. John Drew will be seen here Monday, July 6th.
